Doug Simmons Biography

Doug Simmons, VP Consulting

Current Biography
Doug Simmons is Burton Group vice president of consulting services. His expertise is in enterprise, e-business and service provider security, risk management, data loss prevention, identity and access management, application and data security, network security, security policy and program development, PKI, messaging and collaboration services.

Before joining Gartner through the Burton Group acquisition, Mr. Simmons assisted hundreds of mid- and large-scale customers in architecting and designing detailed security and identity management infrastructures that included user management, workflows, access management, federation, DLP, encryption, and multiple authentication services. His focus industries included manufacturing, financial services, e-commerce, higher education, public utilities, and state and federal government institutions, among others.

Years of Experience
- 9 years with Gartner
- 30 years in IT industry

Professional Background
- Burton Group, Vice President, Consulting, 12 years

Education
- B.S. and B.A., summa cum laude, Computer Science and Business Administration, Bryant University, Smithfield, Rhode Island